MassHousing Provides $102.7 Million in Financing for Four Affordable Housing Communities for Senior Citizens in Boston, Framingham, Newton and New Bedford

Affordability will be preserved for more than 700 apartments and the four properties will undergo extensive renovation

BOSTON – March 8, 2017 – Senior citizens living in four affordable housing communities in Boston, Framingham, Newton and New Bedford will see the preservation of affordability and extensive property renovations as a result of $102.7 million in MassHousing financing.

The four housing communities have a combined 711 apartments and will undergo a combined $55.2 million in renovations. The four transactions closed among a number of Agency year-end loan closings.

Overall, MassHousing has provided financing for 485 apartment communities in Massachusetts involving more than 60,000 housing units.

“The owners of these four important housing communities for senior citizens were very committed to not only extending affordability for their residents but also to making significant property upgrades,” said MassHousing Executive Director Tim Sullivan. “MassHousing has a longstanding commitment to create and preserve quality housing opportunities for our seniors and we were very pleased to complete these transactions involving more than 700 apartments.”

Recently closing the MassHousing financing were:

Smith House, Roxbury, 132 Low-Income Units

The non-profit Madison Park Community Development Corporation is completing a $19 million renovation of the property – the first since Smith House was constructed in 1974 – as well as building a new community center for Smith House and neighboring Madison Park Village residents.

MassHousing provided a $13.4 million construction and permanent loan with a 3.75% interest rate under the HUD/HFA Risk Share Program and a $16 million bridge loan with a 2.45% interest rate.

Other financing was provided through the allocation of Low-Income Housing Tax Credits (LIHTCs) by the state Department of Housing and Community Development (DHCD). All 132 units for low-income seniors are subsidized by a federal Housing Assistance Payment Contract (HAP).

Tribune Apartments, Framingham, 53 Low-Income Elderly and Disabled Units

The non-profit Preservation of Affordable Housing (POAH) is completing an extensive $4.5 million rehabilitation of the property and creating four accessible units. MassHousing provided a $4.3 million construction and permanent loan with a 4.29% interest rate under the HUD/HFA Risk Share Program and a $4.7 million bridge loan with a 2.34% interest rate. Other financing sources were LIHTCs allocated by DHCD and financing through the Federal Home Loan Bank.

All 53 low-income units are subsidized by a HAP contract that was extended for 20 years.

Melville Towers, New Bedford, 327 Low-Income Elderly Units

Affordable Housing and Services Collaborative (AHSC) has refinanced the property and plans $1.7 million in renovations.

MassHousing provided a $26.5 million loan through the MAP/Ginnie Mae Initiative with partner lender Rockport Mortgage Corporation. AHSC was allowed to pre-pay its existing MassHousing loan with a 5.75% interest rate and refinance with a new interest rate of 3.13%.

The HAP contract on 319 low-income units was extended for 20 years. Seven units are subsidized by the Gateway City of New Bedford through the HOME program and one unit is occupied by a property manager.

Golda Meir House, Newton, 197 Elderly Units

The non-profit Jewish Community Housing for the Elderly (JCHE) is completing a $30 million renovation of the elderly housing community.

MassHousing provided a $37.8 million construction and permanent loan with a 3.9% interest rate through the HUD/HFA Risk Share Program.

Another $19.8 million in financing was provided through the allocation of Low-Income Housing Tax Credits through DHCD. One hundred units are subsidized by a HAP contract and 74 additional units are affordable as a condition of using LIHTCs and HUD Project Rental Assistance Contract (PRAC) funding. There are 23 market rate units and two apartments are occupied by property managers.

About MassHousing

MassHousing (The Massachusetts Housing Finance Agency) is an independent, quasi-public agency created in 1966 and charged with providing financing for affordable housing in Massachusetts. The Agency raises capital by selling bonds and lends the proceeds to low- and moderate-income homebuyers and homeowners, and to developers who build or preserve affordable and/or mixed-income rental housing. MassHousing does not use taxpayer dollars to sustain its operations, although it administers some publicly funded programs on behalf of the Commonwealth. Since its inception, MassHousing has provided more than $20 billion for affordable housing.
